STARBUCKS COFFEE RECIPES

Beverage Recipes

STARBUCKS FRAPPUCCINO

1/2 cup fresh espresso
2 1/2 cups low fat milk (2 percent)
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon dry pectin

Combine all of the ingredients in a pitcher or covered container. Stir or shake until sugar is dissolved. Chill and serve cold.

Makes 24 ounces.

To make the "Mocha" variety:

Add a pinch (1/16 teaspoon) of cocoa powder to the mixture before combining.

To make espresso with a drip coffee maker and standard grind of coffee:

Use 1/3 cup ground coffee and 1 cup of water.

Brew once then run coffee through machine again, same grounds.

Makes about 1/2 cup fresh espresso to use in the above recipe.

STARBUCK'S CHAI TEA

3 cups water
3 cups milk (I use skim)
6-8 black or decaf black tea bags
1/2 cup honey
1 tsp ground cinnamon
1 tsp ground cardamom
1/2 tsp ground nutmeg
1/2 tsp ground cloves (I use less because I don't like too strong a clove taste)
1/2 tsp ground ginger (or a mashed small chunk of fresh)

Bring water and milk to a boil. Add other ingredients, return to boil. Turn off heat and let steep for 3-5 minutes. Remove tea bags then filter through fine strainer. Good hot or cold.

STARBUCK'S JAVA FLOAT

Ingredients:

4 Tbsp. chocolate syrup
2 cups club soda or sparkling water, chilled
4 scoops coffee ice cream

Instructions:

In each of 2 tall glasses, stir together 2 Tbsp. of chocolate syrup and 1 cup club soda. Place 2 scoops of ice cream in each glass and serve immediately.

Serves 2.

MOCHA COCONUT FRAPPUCCINO

Like a cold Mounds bar in a cup with a caffeine kick thrown in for extra buzz. Find shredded coconut in the baking aisle and toast 1/2 cup of it (store the leftover coconut in the fridge). You'll use most of the toasted coconut in the blender, but save a little for the garnish when the drinks are done.

1/2 cup shredded coconut
3/4 cup double strength coffee
1 cup low-fat milk
1/3 cup Hershey's chocolate syrup
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 cups ice
Garnish: whipped cream

1. Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Spread shredded coconut on a baking sheet and toast coconut in the oven. Stir the coconut around every 10 minutes or so for even browning. After 25 to 30 minutes the shredded coconut should be light brown. Cool it off.
2. Make double-strength coffee by brewing with twice the coffee required by your coffeemaker. That should be 2 tablespoons of ground coffee per each cup of coffee. Chill before using.
3. To make the drinks, combine cold coffee, milk, 1/3 cup of the toasted coconut, 1/3 cup chocolate syrup, and sugar in a blender. Blend for 15 to 20 seconds to dissolve sugar. Add ice and blend until ice is crushed and the drink is smooth. Pour drinks into two 16-ounce glasses. Garnish each drink with whipped cream, a drizzle of chocolate, and a pinch of some of the remaining toasted coconut. Add a straw to each one. Makes 2 large drinks.

Variation on Mocha Frappuccino:

2 cups ice cold milk, 2 cups vanilla ice cream, 1/3 cup (rounded) General Foods International Coffees, Suisse Mocha flavor, 1 tbls cold espresso or strong black coffee (optional, for more coffee flavor) Blend at high speed for about a minute. Place the blender container in the freezer for about half an hour (this makes it colder and thicker, but Don't let it freeze all of the way) Blend the contents again. Serves 2.

Starbucks Frappuccino

1/2 cup Strong Coffee - espresso if possible
2 cup Milk
1/4 - 1/3 cup Sugar
1 1/2 cup Ice
Combine all in a blender and blend well.

STARBUCK'S FROZEN FRAPPUCCINO

The Frappuccino is blended with strong coffee, sugar, a dairy base, and ice. Make double-strength coffee by measuring 2 tablespoons of ground coffee per cup (serving) in your coffee maker. The copy will be even more authentic if you use Starbucks beans and grind them yourself just before brewing.

Coffee

3/4 cup double-strength coffee, cold
1 cup low-fat milk
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
2 cups ice

1. Make double-strength coffee by brewing with twice the coffee required by your coffee maker. That should be 2 tablespoons of ground coffee per each cup of coffee. Chill before using.
 2. To make the drink, combine all ingredients in a blender and blend on high speed until ice is crushed and drink is smooth. Pour into two 16-ounce glasses, and serve with a straw.

STARBUCK'S CARAMEL MACCHIATO

Caramel Macchiato

The average coffee mug is probably equivalent to a Tall (12-oz/355 mL). I am not following precise Starbucks standards, though if you must know it's properly one shot of espresso, about .75 oz syrup (.25 oz per 4 oz liquid capacity).

milk
espresso vanilla syrup
your favorite caramel sauce

In a regular-sized coffee mug, add vanilla syrup and steamed milk. Top with milk foam and add freshly brewed espresso through the foam. Drizzle with caramel sauce.

Same ingredients, plus some small ice cubes and (optional) whipped cream

In a pint glass or iced tea glass (we're assuming 16 oz), add vanilla syrup and fill about 3/5 of the way with cold milk. Add ice almost to the top and pour espresso (2 shots would be typical) over the top. If you've done it right, the espresso will mix in only about halfway down without stirring. If adding whipped cream, add it here. Drizzle the top with caramel

2/3-cup whole milk
6 tablespoons white chocolate chips

Pour into mug add milk, sugar and enjoy!

- 2 C. nonfat milk

Fill ice cube trays with half of the brewed coffee and place in the freezer.
In a bowl, combine the remaining brewed coffee, cocoa powder and milk and stir to dissolve the cocoa. Cover and chill.

When the ice cubes have frozen, transfer them to a kitchen towel and, using a hammer or mallet, crush the cubes. Fill 4 glasses with the crushed ice and divide the coffee-cocoa mixture evenly among them. Dust the top with cocoa powder and serve.

STARBUCK'S EGGNOG LATTE

It's perfect on a cold, winter morning or for celebrating the holidays with friends and family. Note: You will need an espresso machine with steaming capabilities to create this beverage.

1/2 cup eggnog
1/4 cup whole milk

Pastry Recipes and Coffee Desserts

STARBUCK'S ALMOND BISCOTTI

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup chopped or slivered almonds, toasted in a 350 degree oven for 7-10 minutes, until fragrant, and cooled
3 large eggs, room temperature
1 teaspoon each: vanilla and almond extract
Pinch of salt

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Mix flour, sugar, nuts and baking powder and pinch of salt either in the food processor or mixer, or even by hand. Whisk eggs and extracts in another bowl until well beaten. Add egg mixture to flour mixture and process or beat just until combined. Mixture will be sticky and thick.

Grease or spray a cookie sheet. Divide dough into two parts and transfer to cookie sheet. With floured hands, shape into 8" long, 1/2" high loaves. If desired, sprinkle with a bit more of granulated or raw sugar.

Bake for 20-25 minutes, until pale golden and center of loaf is firm when touched. Remove from cookie sheet and cool.

Place on cutting board and cut into 1/2" thick slices on the diagonal. Arrange cookies cut side down on same sheet. Bake another 12-18 minutes, until cookies are turning golden but still a bit soft.

Let cool and store in airtight container. Makes about 2 dozen.

STARBUCK'S CHOCOLATE FUDGE SQUARES WITH MOCHA GLAZE

1/2 cup unsalted butter, at room temperature (1 stick; see note)
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
2 ounce unsweetened chocolate, melted
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Glaze

1 generous cup powdered sugar
1 tablespoon unsalted butter, at room temperature
1 ounce unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup brewed double-strength coffee, preferably made from dark-roasted beans

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter an 8-inch square-baking pan.

To make fudge squares: In a large bowl, cream the butter with the sugar and egg.

In a small bowl, sift together the flour and baking powder. Add to the butter mixture. Then add the melted chocolate, being careful not to over-beat. Add the milk, vanilla and walnuts, stirring just to blend.

Pour the batter into the prepared pan. Bake until the edges begin to pull away from the sides of the pan and the top springs back when pressed lightly, about 30 minutes. Allow the cake to cool completely. Meanwhile, make glaze.

To make glaze: In a medium bowl, combine the powdered sugar, butter, chocolate and vanilla. Stir in the coffee and whisk until smooth.

Refrigerate the glaze until cool, then pour over the top of the cake and cut the cake into squares.

Note: Use real butter or stick margarine. Do not substitute reduced-fat spreads; their higher water content often yields less-satisfactory results.

STARBUCK'S MARBLE POUND CAKE

16 servings

4 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/8 tsp. salt
6 ounces good-quality semisweet OR bittersweet chocolate, finely chopped
1 pound (2 cups or 4 sticks) unsalted butter, softened
3 cups granulated sugar
1 Tbsp. vanilla
10 eggs, graded "large"
2 Tbsp. orange liqueur OR milk
Grated zest of 2 lemons

Adjust rack one-third up from bottom of oven; preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Grease a 10 by 4 inch tube pan with solid vegetable shortening. Line the bottom with a circle of wax paper cut to fit, grease the paper, then lightly flour the entire inside of the pan (including the tube), knocking out any excess. Set aside. Sift together cake flour, baking powder, and salt; set aside.

Place chopped chocolate into small heatproof bowl. Place bowl over simmering water on low heat (water should not touch bottom of bowl); stir frequently until melted and smooth. Remove from heat and hot water; set aside.

Fit a stand mixer with paddle beater, if available. In large mixer bowl, beat softened butter at medium speed until smooth. Add sugar and vanilla. Beat at a low speed until incorporated, then scrape beater(s) and bowl with rubber spatula (repeat this scraping often throughout the mixing process to ensure complete blending of ingredients).

Increase speed to medium; beat for 3 full minutes. At a low speed, add eggs, two at a time. When all eggs have been added, increase speed to medium once more; beat for 1 minute (mixture may look curdled now — OK).

At lowest speed, add about half of sifted dry ingredients, mixing only until blended. Add orange liqueur. Add remaining dry ingredients and mix in, then remove bowl from mixer and fold in lemon zest with large spatula.

Note: This is a large amount of thick, heavy batter.

It may be necessary to increase mixer speed slightly to get dry ingredients to incorporate. I always end up removing the bowl from the mixer before the last of the dry ingredients are blended in completely, adding the lemon zest, then folding everything together with a large, sturdy rubber spatula. Batter may still look slightly curdled at this point — OK.

Measure out a generous 4 cups of the batter and set aside. To remaining batter in mixer bowl, add melted chocolate (which may still be slightly warm) all at once; whisk in with large, sturdy whisk.

Place alternating spoonfuls of dark and light batters into prepared pan. To level batter in pan, grasp pan on opposite sides with both hands; twist briskly in short, back-and-forth motions. To marble, run a knife in a circular motion all around the batter in several concentric circles, going almost down to the bottom of the pan (don't overdo the marbling). With back of a large spoon, push batter slightly higher onto pan edges and tube, leaving a "trench" in the middle.

Bake in preheated oven for 1 hour and 15 minutes to 1 hour and 25 minutes. Turn pan back-to-front once about halfway through baking time. If top of cake begins to become too brown, cover loosely with aluminum foil. Cake is done when a toothpick inserted into the crack that will form all around the top emerges with a few moist crumbs still clinging to it. Do not over bake! My experience with this cake is that it will pull away from the sides of the pan only after it is removed from the oven.

Remove to cooling rack; allow to stand 15 to 20 minutes. Carefully loosen cake from pan edges and tube; invert onto another cooling rack (be careful! This is a large, tall cake). Re-invert to cool completely right side up. When completely cool, store airtight. Allow to stand at least overnight before serving. To cut, use a large, sharp, serrated knife.
